How Long Before Fruit Gives Way to Houses?

How long will it take for Penticton's famous orchards to be sub-divided to satisfy the growing demands of a house-hungry population? No civic head can be found to express a definite opinion, but most agree that the rate at which housing estates are swallowing up once fertile fruit growing land is alarming. Now industry, which no one will deny the city needs, is to be encouraged to locate here. Can the disappearance of our orchards be prevented?

Whichever way we twist the subject it would appear that the orchards in and close to the city are doomed to extinction. For whatever lands now orchard free and available for subdivision will soon be gobbled up. With Penticton's growing reputation as the ideal place to locate, domestically or commercially, there is little doubt in our minds that the glory of the valley must soon be diminished.

This does not mean that we foresee the day when Penticton will no longer be the centre of B.C.'s fruit industry. But rather that we see it as a processing rather than a growing centre. For though Penticton may grow in population there is little doubt in our minds that outlying districts will continue to take up the slack in the fruit-growing industry.

Because of these seemingly inevitable facts regarding the decline of our orchards the Board of Trade is again to be complimented on its committee designed to attract other industries here to maintain steady payrolls. Some may think us unduly pessimistic about the disappearance of our "within the city" orchards, but similar pessimism has already been expressed in other fruit-growing areas. Of the Niagara Peninsula the Gordon commission on agriculture said: "Most, if not all of the specialized fruit-growing land in the Niagara Peninsula and adjacent to Lake Ontario will have been shifted to non-agricultural uses within the next quarter century and despite any special efforts that may be made to prevent this from happening."

Penticton's decline may not be so rapid, but if present expansion continues it will be equally sure. It is imperative that our local, provincial and federal leaders recognize the advancing tide of orchard-destroying real estate and industrial progress, and make plans accordingly. Plans to provide for a continuing yield of fruit in areas as yet uncultivated, and plans to maintain the economy of cities deprived of what has been a steady income for many years.

No one can deny the rapid dwindling of our fruit growing land. Once it passes the point of no return it will be pointless to wish we had planned for a future we all recognize as inevitable.

Developments in Cyprus

There is much significance in the change the British government has made in the governorship of the troubled island of Cyprus. Two years ago Field Marshal Sir John Harding, a military martinet and former chief of the Imperial General Staff, was sent to Cyprus as governor. At that time an open state of revolt and terrorism existed. Sir John Harding was given the task of curbing the terrorism, and restoring peace to the island. This, we believe, he has succeeded in doing.

Now Sir John is giving up his position in Cyprus. He is being replaced by an entirely different kind of governor, a civilian type official in the person of Sir Hugh Foot.

This is quite likely the result of deliberate planning on the part of the British government to make a different approach to the Cyprus problem. For several months, relative calm has prevailed there. Terrorists have given up their hostile raids, either of their own volition, or because of Sir John Harding's determination to restore law and order on the island.

Certainly the situation today is much more relaxed. The need for a military governor seems to have disappeared. And it may be that the time is propitious for a civilian type governor to undertake the tasks of reconciliation, and to make a fresh effort to solve the very difficult problem which has confronted the British government in Cyprus. We can at least hope that this is the case, so that by peaceful and conciliatory methods, a settlement of the Cyprus problem can be achieved.

Against Abolitionists

The opponents of capital punishment in Britain are having a bad time. These agitators for abolition are watching the country go through a trial period. In the first seven months the number of murders has increased by 20 per cent. Britain ordinarily has 120 to 140 murders each year. If the present rate continues throughout the "test period" the figure will be around 160.

Under the "test law" a murderer is sentenced to life imprisonment instead of hanging. But "life" imprisonment in Britain means 20 years. A 31-year-old laborer who lured a four-year-old girl into a bombed building and murdered her will be a free man when he is 51 years old. A 36-year-old man who murdered a seven-year-old boy will be free when he is 56 years old.

This is another point on which the public spotlight is focussed—the increase in sex crimes against children since hanging was abolished. Parents in Britain are warning their children to beware of strangers to a greater extent than before. The sex maniac is apparently not so "sick," as claimed by his defenders, that he cannot distinguish between a hangman's noose and the comforts of prison life.

Abolitionists in Canada might note the situation that has developed in Britain where public opinion is being aroused for a restoration of capital punishment.

His name is Jean-Baptiste Biaggi. He is a 37-year-old lawyer from Corsica, Napoleon's birthplace, and he runs a new political movement called the Patriotic Revolutionary party. Biaggi has a square-shouldered bodyguard called The Black Angel who has been mentioned unflatteringly in a book by Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber, director of the left-wing French weekly, L'Express. Servan-Schreiber's book is critical of French policy in Algeria. Biaggi's party has no significant influence but it could prove of considerable nuisance value. It is feeding on the current mood of inflated French nationalism, which in turn springs largely from a feeling of national humiliation.

"We are tired of being kicked in the backside," says Biaggi. Biaggi fought in the army of the late Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny and worked as a lawyer for Gen. de Gaulle. He organized the shover of ripe fruit which greeted Guy Mollet when the former premier visited Algeria in February, 1956. Biaggi — "my aim is power" — also is believed the man behind the demonstrations organized in Paris this week during the visit of British Prime Minister Macmillan.

"We are out to overthrow the government by any means at our disposal, including force," Biaggi told a reporter of The Daily Mail, a London newspaper. A correspondent of another London paper, John Gale of The Observer, counted 17 busts of Napoleon in Biaggi's Paris apartment. Biaggi brings to French politics something of the nihilistic spirit of Pierre Poulade, the bookbinder who built a temporary husting around a simple refusal to pay taxes. Biaggi's followers, super-patriots with a taste for demonstrations, claim that France is being sold out by the West.

STRANGE TALK
They call the Americans "big children" and say the Queen, if she visited Paris now, wouldn't receive the same welcome she got last April.

The new mood, fused out of all the frustrations of the last 17 years, is noted by visitors. A Daily Express columnist says France is tired of being under-estimated. "There is strange talk in Paris," he says. "Talk of an authoritarian regime, talk of leaving NATO, talk of a right-wing government with an alliance with the Soviet Union. The city is alive with exciting, fascinating — but rather sinister ideas."

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

Acceptance of Negroes Continues in Halifax

By DON HOYT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP)—The Negro is slowly being accepted by the white majority in Halifax and the surrounding county.

Nearly 5,000 Negroes in this area of 120,000 people make up the largest Negro community per capita in Canada. Only a couple of discrimination gates remain bolted against them. Even these are beginning to rust away.

Full equality is in the distant future, but since the end of the war the Negro here has made what a foreign university student describes as "tremendous strides."

EDUCATION THE KEY

Both Negro and white sides say education holds the answer, not only by learning in the schools, but by putting across racial equality as a thing to be desired. Rev. William P. Oliver, 45-year-old pastor of Cornwallis Street Baptist Church, executive secretary of the Nova Scotia Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is a leading proponent of the educational process.

He has personally been the victim of discrimination. A house was withdrawn from sale when he tried to buy. Despite such disappointments, Mr. Oliver remains a moderate.

COLOR A CHALLENGE

His wife, Pearlleen, considers "being colored a wonderful challenge."

One of five sons, Leslie, this year was elected head boy, or student council president, of Queen Elizabeth High School where 12 Negroes are among 900 white students.

Another son, Phil, science major at Acadia University, was chosen at high school to receive the Cornwall award given annually to the student most representative of a Canadian citizen. A third son is in his senior year at Dalhousie.

"Basically," Mr. Oliver says, "I've always based my policy on Christianity in practice. The big push has to be in the field of education."

HOUSING A PROBLEM

To take the educational opportunity available to his children, the Negro "must be given gainful employment," Mr. Oliver says. "Housing is probably the most acute problem. To obtain social acceptance, a man must have a certain street number."

Most of the approximately 1,000 Negroes in the city live on the outskirts of cross-harbor Dartmouth and are mainly confined to one area.

Although labor and government officials claim few employment barriers exist because of color, the Negro is limited to jobs for which he can "qualify."

Few Negro clerks are seen in downtown Halifax stores. White-collar jobs are restricted. Most Negroes find jobs as railway porters or in the building trades.

FEW IN PROFESSIONS

There is no Negro doctor in greater Halifax. There is one lawyer, and two ordained ministers. A Negro recently joined the fire department and another is on the police force. There are several nurses and teachers. One Negro sits on the municipal council and school board. "Employment opportunities are increasing," Mr. Oliver said. "We've made tremendous strides in 10 years."

Negro barrister George W. Davis said he believes the achievements during recent years resulted partly from the closer relations of white and Negro soldiers during the Second World War.

Mr. Davis says he views organized labor and possibly the press as two powerful pressure groups that will eventually snap the color bar in employment. In county schools there are 900 Negroes among 22,000 students. All facilities are integrated except at New Road, an exclusively Negro community, where 244 students attend school up to grade nine. The New Road teachers are, for the most part, Negroes. Children, Negro and white, from centres with no high school are taken by bus to the nearest high school.

Alex Campbell, president of the Sigma Chi fraternity, said pressure is being applied on diaphanous fraternities by northern United States and Canadian chapters to remove the color bar.

NO ISOLATION

John W. Lynch, executive secretary of the municipal school board, says, "There is no such thing as isolation due to color in Halifax county. There is not a colored pupil who hasn't the opportunity of taking advantage of all education facilities."

In other segments of community life, instances of discrimination crop up—some repeatedly but most of an isolated nature.

The Foreign Students' Association of Dalhousie University has asked the local barbers' union to outline its policy on cutting Negroes' hair following an incident involving a West Indian student.

A few incidents have been reported in restaurants and hotels. A Dalhousie fraternities said all nine university fraternities are closed to Negroes—either through a clause written into the constitution or through "a gentlemen's agreement." The fraternities are not officially recognized by the university.

Hubbardston, Mass. (AP)—One evening last summer chief of police Howard Taylor stunned the residents of this small New England community by announcing that he and his three-man police force were quitting.

"The teen-agers are way out of hand," he told the town council. "With some co-operation from the parents, we could help them. But we're not getting the co-operation, and we're fed up."

Taylor's words were underscored a few minutes later. A truck carrying several teenagers skidded on a curve near the town hall, throwing one boy to the ground and severely injuring him. Taylor is back on the job now. But many things have happened as a result of this move that left Hubbardston without an official police force for two months.

OFFICIAL CLAM DOWN

Town officials and parents have joined the drive to clamp down on hot-rodging and vandalism by teen-age boys. Chief Taylor got a larger police force for better protection. And the town's 1,162 residents, according to one young mother, "have a much better place in which to live."

What was behind the police resignations?

In the month before they were submitted, these things happened. Nearly every night, at all hours, groups of teen-agers staged hot-rod races on Hubbardston's streets, ignoring police warnings.

A woman narrowly avoided a bad accident after a youth gunned his old car in front of hers and challenged her to a race.

PRACTICAL JOKE

A man nearly died of a heart attack when he thought he'd run over somebody—old clothes filled with straw and tossed in front of his car.

Vandals burned two vacant houses, tore down fences, broke several windows and destroyed a mailbox with a home-made bomb. The situation came to a head in July. Taylor called on state police for help. The state officials descended on the town, ticketed many speeding youths and inspected nearly every automobile in town, condemning a few to the junk pile. Several adults were also caught. "Most of the people didn't like

OTTAWA REPORT

No Politics As MP's Dine

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Special Correspondent to The Herald

OTTAWA — The parliamentary restaurant will be the scene to-night of an unusual get-together when political partisanship will be forgotten.

Senators and Members of Parliament of all parties will join as hosts at a dinner in honor of the popular former Foreign Secretary, Hon. Lester B. Pearson. The occasion is to mark the honor bestowed upon him and upon Canada in the award of the Nobel Peace Prize, and the date selected is the eve of Mike Pearson's departure for Stockholm, where he will personally accept the prize amounting to some $40,000.

The dinner and the formalities have to be sandwiched within the two-hour parliamentary recess of a normal day of House of Commons business. So the dinner will commence shortly after the adjournment at 6 p.m. and the last cup of coffee and last speech must be finished in time for the nation's business to start again at 8 p.m.

The dinner to honor Mr. Pearson was arranged by the Commons whips of the four political parties, on the suggestion of Mr. Pearson's former Cabinet colleague and rival for the Liberal party leadership—Hon. Paul Martin. Mr. Martin also arranged for the Secretary-General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld, to travel to Ottawa for the occasion, when he will deliver a speech proposing the toast to Nobel Prize man Pearson.

His parliamentary colleagues will also present to Mr. Pearson a souvenir of the occasion, probably in the form of a silver tray.

HARD WORKING

One of the most hard-working and ubiquitous Liberal M.P.'s this session is the newly appointed Ontario whip for that party, Mr. Blake Hoffman. It is his job to shepherd along his 21 Liberal colleagues representing Ontario ridings; to arrange their position on the speakers' list to meet their wishes and equity as far as possible, and most difficult of all, to keep their week-end absenteeism as far as possible down to the true week-end recess between 6 p.m. on Fridays and 2:30 p.m. on Mondays.

The chief Liberal whip this session is Dr. Pierre Gauthier of Quebec Province, whose 64-member delegation makes up the majority of the parliamentary Liberal party. It is a well-deserved honor to Chatham's Blake Hoffman.

ANGLICAN W.A. HOLDS RUMMAGE SALE

A rummage sale always has a special appeal for the shopper who is looking for a bargain in household articles or in wearing apparel, and with this in an objective, many women's groups sponsor these sales to raise funds for their favorite charities or for some other worthy project. St. Saviour's Anglican Church Evening Branch WA is holding a series of these fund-raising events and proceeds were most gratifying from the one held Saturday afternoon in the lower parish hall. The sale opened at 2 p.m., and, as at all bargain counters, the stock of merchandise disappeared almost immediately with only a few hats and odd items remaining. Pictured above are the three committee members who worked with the second in the series of rummage sales, Mrs. O. B. Swanson, Mrs. R. B. Cox and Mrs. Walter Bobbitt, convener. The next sale is planned for early in the new year.

LET'S EAT

Frozen Foods Made Delicious Eating

"If a restaurant chef cooked only one meal, to be served immediately, he would soon go out of business," exclaimed the Chef. "He saves time, and therefore money, by preparing many foods in double or triple amounts, then refrigerating them to use the next day, or wrap sealing and freezing for use within a month."

FROZEN FOR FUTURE USE

"That's what I call frozen 'food futures', Chef. When foods are cooked and frozen in advance, there is always something on hand for a good meal. If, at the next cooking of a basic food, a double or triple quantity is made, frozen 'food futures' are always available."

"Among the entrees I like to freeze, Madame, are shrimp curry and fishburgers; oxtail ragout and vegetable beef balls, chicken cacciatore, Mexican chicken, and casserole of lamb. Recipes for all of these have been previously given in this column."

FREEZER FOODS ARE SERVED IN CASSEROLE DISHES

"Boston baked beans with salt pork as well as baked lima beans are well adapted to freezing up to three weeks, Chef."

"Whatever the entree, it must be frozen in a moisture-proof rigid container. That's why, in the test kitchen, we use square waxed board freezing containers, sealed by merely pressing down the container's rigid lid. Besides, they are reasonable in price and can be heated for storage."

All measurements are level. Baked Lima Beans and Sauce. Casserole: Boil 2 lbs. dried lima beans as usual in salted water to cover. Do not drain.

Dice 8 slices of bacon; fry until crisp. Combine with 1 pkg. dry onion soup mix, 2 (4-oz.) cans sliced mushrooms with liquid, 2 (10-oz.) cans condensed tomato soup, 2 (8-oz.) cans tomato sauce, and 1 1/2 c. water. Stir into the beans and liquid. Simmer 10 min. or until of serving consistency.

Pour into 4 qt.-size rigid square home-freezing containers. Seal by pressing down rigid plastic lid. Freeze immediately. To use, half thaw required quantity. Transfer to casserole. Break up with fork. Border with brown-and-serve sausages. Bake about 40 min. in moderate oven, 350-375 deg. F.

Stir in 1/4 c. sifted powdered sugar, 1/4 tsp. pure vanilla extract, and 1/2 c. drained half-thawed frozen strawberries.

Transfer to a mold and seal. Freeze 3 to 4 hrs. in the food freezer or ice chamber of the refrigerator.

Unmold and slice. Garnish with remaining thawed strawberries.

FRUIT WITH FISH

Fresh fruits or compotes, one-crust fruit pies berries or crunched topped escalloped fruits, are all delectable finales to a dinner featuring fish, which needs tartness for a teammate.

Little Agar Makes A Big Difference

Vernon Coach Connects for Three Goals in Final Frame

There was a big difference between the Vees and the Vernon Canadians Saturday night. The difference—a little guy named George Agar.

Agar, playing coach of the Vernon club, pulled the trigger on three third period goals to give the Canadians a 6-3 win over the Vees before 1,400 fans.

Until Agar's heroics, the Vees had matched the slick Canadian crew stride for stride and goal for goal. But when Hal Tarala's youngster's faltered, Agar was at the door, welcoming opportunity with open arms.

Vees netminder George Wood had no chance on the Vernon goals as all six were the result of clever passing plays.

Wood kicked out 33 drives, while at the other end Jim McLeod, subbing for regular Vernon goaltender, blocked 30 shots.

The game pattern prevailed early in the second period. Blair took a pass from Agar at 6:05 to beat Wood for the Canadians second goal. Within 43 seconds it was tied up again, Wakshinski drilling Harper's pass into the twine.

Vees broke through for several good scoring chances after their second goal but McLeod held them out.

Canadians went out in front at 12:22 when Moro finished off a three-way passing play with Agar and Blair. The Vernon rookie cut in sharply and tipped Agar's goalmouth pass behind Wood.

The third period was only 53 seconds old when Johnny Utendale broke away at centre ice and romped right in on McLeod to put the Vees back on even terms.

Then Agar went to work. He took a pass at the side of the crease and flipped the puck into the net for his first goal of the night at 6:04.

At 17:40 he skated in from the corner and fired home Tom Siedyk's pass, giving Wood no chance on the play.

He completed his hat-trick 13 seconds later, blazing a waist-high shot past Wood after taking a pass from Blair on a two-man rush. Blair carried the puck down the ice and pulled the lone defenseman to one side before feeding the pass to Agar.

Only two penalties, both minor, were called by referee Bill Neilson.

Ice chips: Don McLeod, rugged Vernon rear guard, was back in action after being out for six weeks with a shoulder separation. . . he showed no ill effects, dishing out several bone-jarring body checks. . . Jim McLeod, Vernon's spare goaltender, is Don's younger brother.

Agar, Bathgate and Utendale were the pick of the Vees. . . Referee Bill Neilson, as usual, made a big hit with the fans. . . Vees play in Kelowna Tuesday night against the league-leading Packers and host the second-place Kamloops Chiefs Friday night.

Frank King opened the scoring at 7:24 of the first period when he took a pass from Johnny Harms off the boards behind the net and hooked the puck around the corner of the cage past Wood.

The lead was short-lived. Walt Peacosh took a double relay from Utendale and Bernie Bathgate 28 seconds later and skated across the goalmouth before firing the puck past McLeod from close in.

The same pattern prevailed early in the second period. Blair took a pass from Agar at 6:05 to beat Wood for the Canadians second goal. Within 43 seconds it was tied up again, Wakshinski drilling Harper's pass into the twine.

TARALA FINES FIVE PLAYERS

Five members of the Vees today are $10 poorer than they were Saturday night. Coach Hal Tarala slapped the fine on the five players who were on the ice when the Canadians scored their fourth goal, which proved to be the winner.

The five are Lowell Dykstra, Jack Taggart, Johnny Utendale, Don Slater and Rheo Toulzin.

"They are going to have to work to get it back," Tarala commented.

Lefty O'Doul Quits Rainiers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frank Lefty O'Doul resigned Saturday as manager of the Pacific Coast League Seattle Rainiers but said he has no thought of retiring from baseball.

The veteran manager, who piloted five of the league's eight clubs after leaving the major leagues as an outstanding hitter, said he may for a time confine his activities to business interests but would be interested if a good spot in baseball opened up.

PEACOSH TESTS MCLEOD

Walt Peacosh moves in unopposed to test Vernon goaltender Jim McLeod in Saturday night's Okanagan Senior Hockey League game at the arena. Vernon outscored the Vees 3-1 in the final period on three goals by Canadians' playing coach George Agar to take a 6-3 decision. Vees' next home game will be Friday when they host the second-place Kamloops Chiefs.

Hanlon Paces Cagers With 29-Point Display

Pentiction Freightways climbed into the rarified atmosphere of first place in the Interior Basketball League Saturday night. But they've got company.

Freightways took the measure of Kamloops Chiefs, 75-61, to gain a first place tie with the Kelowna Oilers. Each team has two wins and a loss in league play.

Centre Bill Hanlon, a recent acquisition, led the local team's attack, hitting 13 times from the floor and three times from the foul line for a 29-point total. Also figuring prominently in the Pentiction offence were Charlie Fowles, who added seven.

Pentiction struck early, piling up a 45-20 margin at the half. Play was even in the second half, Kamloops outscoring the locals 31-30.

First-string guards Charlie Preen and Ray Spring set up the Pentiction attack in fine fashion and controlled the defensive back boards well.

Kamloops — McKinnon 13, J. Fowles 28, Len Fowles 7, Kevin 4, Glowacki, Lyons, Olson 4, Creeth 5, Boyd — 61.

CHIEFS EDGED 4-3 Packers Move Out in Front

KELOWNA (CP) — Kelowna three markers. Packers edged Kamloops Chiefs 4-3 here Saturday night to gain a split in their Okanagan Senior Hockey League home-and-home weekend series.

The 2,000 fans witnessed a fast, clean game, and saw former professional Ray Powell awarded the first penalty shot here since 1949.

Powell was tackled from behind by Fred Sasakamoose as he broke in on Jim Shirley. He had his free shot blocked by the lanky net-minder.

Brian Roche got two goals for Packers, one of them the winner, and worked extra shifts for Moe Young who re-injured his leg and had to leave the game.

From This Corner

By GARTH WILTON

The possibility that the Vees would accomplish the feat of winning two straight games loomed large Saturday night until Aggar personally ruined the Vees' hopes with a three-goal barrage.

Vernon's most potent attacking trio — Aggar, Moro and Blair — veered the Vees trouble all night. But they saved their best licks until the third period, then they resolved the issue beyond all doubt.

In all, the line picked up 12 scoring points and accounted for five of the six Vernon goals. Aggar had five points, Blair four and Moro three.

Defensively Don McLeod was outstanding for the Vernon squad. He was throwing body checks with abandon and slowing the Vees down considerably.

For the Vees, George Wood was again in fine form. He received good support from the defence as most of the Vernon goals were the result of well-executed passing plays.

Up front, Walt Peacock, Bernie Bathgate and Johnny Utendale were all going full tilt. Don Slater, too, turned in a good effort, skating hard both ways.

The Vees never looked more disorganized than when they had the man advantage on Lebodia's penalty. They had trouble getting the puck into Vernon's zone, and when they did they couldn't keep it there long enough to get a good scoring play set up.

The game was one of the cleanest played on Pentiction ice in some time. But, despite the clean play, it was no tea party. Several players, especially McLeod, were using their bodies to good advantage. Kev Conway threw a couple of solid bodychecks when the Vernon forwards came in with their heads down.

Lebodia's penalty probably saved a goal for Vernon. Peacock decked the burly rearward right out of his skates and as he went by Lebodia wrapped his arms around the Vees' forward, who was moving in on the goal.

Harper received his penalty for bad intentions. A Vernon player held his stick. Angered, Harper jerked it free and slashed at the player. He missed but referee Bill Nelson looked around just in time to see him swing.

Vees' left winger Eddie Diachuk, who thinks the Warwicks' brother act would look better as a duo rather than a trio, has been suspended for five games. He has already missed two and will be back in action Dec. 10. Diachuk's suspension stems from a match penalty received for his part in a stick swinging episode with Dick Warwick of the Kamloops Chiefs.

BELIVEAU SPARKLES

Habs Fatten League Lead

By The Canadian Press
Montreal Canadiens piled on the power in two weekend games to fatten their leadership of the National Hockey League, smashing Boston Bruins 4-1 Sunday night after a penalty-ridden 6-1 romp over Chicago Black Hawks Saturday that saw big Jean Beliveau score three goals.

The Hawks fared no better Sunday night, losing 7-2 at Chicago to Toronto Maple Leafs on rookie forward Frank Mahovlich's three-goal performance.

The Leafs, who edged Boston 3-2 Saturday on Barry Cullen's third-period goal before a home audience, thus vaulted into fourth place ahead of the Hawks and Detroit Red Wings.

The Rangers, 3-1 losers to the Wings in a televised encounter at New York Saturday, turned on the first period, but ended the game with a 5-1 victory at Detroit for a four-game losing streak for the second period.

Except for some rough stuff in the first period, the Boston game was tame beside Saturday night's Montreal clash when a first-period swinging battle blew up in the Chicago zone a little more than three minutes before the game ended. Four players from each team received a total of 70 minutes in penalties.

PLANTE LOSES SHUTOUT
Bernie Goffrion, Hens Richard, Bert Olmstead and Phil Goyette scored all the Habs' goals in the second period Sunday after a scoreless opener. Real Chevrefils robbed Jacques Plante of his third shutout in the first period.

The Rangers, restricted to six goals in five previous contests by Terry Sawchuk, fired dozens of shots at the Detroit netminder Sunday.

Bill Gadsby equalized Norm Ullman's tally which gave Detroit a first-period lead and Dean

Prentice put the Rangers ahead in the second. Larry Popein, Parker Macdonald and Camille Henry made it a rout in the second period.

The Leafs broke out for five goals in the second period before 12,016 customers at Chicago. Mahovich, six-foot-three and only 18, scored his first during a flurry in which three goals were counted in just over three minutes.

The other Toronto marksmen were Rudy Migay, Dick Duff, Bob Pulford and Brian Tullen. Glen Skov and Bob Bailey scored for the Hawks.

Red Kelly scored twice to lead the Wings to their victory Saturday.

BRUINS TAKE LEAD

The Leafs win ran their record over Boston to three victories, a tie and a loss in five meetings. Bronco Horvath and Vic Stasiuk gave the Bruins a 2-0 lead in the first six minutes of the game but Gary Alderson scored his first goal of the season before the end of the first period and Tim Horton, also making his scoring debut, tied it up with the only goal of the second period.

Cullen's winner came when he picked up a pass from his brother Brian, just outside the blue line, sped in on goalie Don Simmons and fired a 15-footer into the far side of the net.

The outburst at Montreal started with Canadiens' defenseman Bob Turner and centre Eddie Litzenberger of Chicago scuffling along the boards. All the players, except both goalies, piled in although few punches landed.

Spokane Maintains League Leadership

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP)—Spokane Flyers took a 2-0 lead in the first period, split two goals with Trail Smoke Eaters in the second, and counted three more in the third to score a 6-1 Western International Hockey League victory here Saturday night. The victory left the front-run-

Nelson Edges Rossland, 4-3

NELSON (CP)—Andy Drobot popped two goals for Nelson Maple Leafs Saturday night to pace a 4-3 Western International Hockey League victory over Rossland Warriors.

Drobot, refugee from Cranbrook Selkirk of the Alberta-British Columbia-Montana intermediate league, scored early in the first period to start Leafs to their victory. But his second goal was the big one.

Fifty Ploke McIntyre scored with five seconds remaining in the second period as he poked a short shot past Gus Adams to tie the score.

Only four seconds later, at 19:49, Drobot rifled a blast from outside the blue-line which deflected off the arm of Rossland net minder Reno Zanier into the cage.

Captain Don Appleton and Mickey Maglio scored Nelson's other goals. Appleton's coming with Warrior rearward Paddy McCabe in the penalty box. Maglio picked the short side midway through the final period with the winning goal.

Gil Desrochers and Hal Jones scored the remaining Rossland goals.

NELSON 4 - ROSSLAND 3
First Period — 1. Nelson, Drobot (Gare, Hill) 5:30; 2. Nelson, Appleton (Mackin, Rivett) 8:30; 3. Rossland, Desrochers (Ferguson, Turk) 16:57; Penalties: McCabe 7:40, Parker 14:25, Hill 14:28.
Second Period — 4. Rossland, McIntyre (Dunlop, Jones) 10:34; 5. Nelson, Drobot (Gare, Hill) 19:49; Penalties: Appleton and Martini 8:18.
Third Period — 6. Nelson, Maglio (Gare, Hill) 4:47; 7. Rossland, Jones (McCabe, Demore) 16:57; Penalties: Keller 3:11, Parker 6:32, Nelson 16:57, McIntyre and Maglio 16:16.

WARRIORS BLANK STAMPS

Mikulan Unbeatable

By The Canadian Press
After an unspectacular Western Hockey League sophomore season with Vancouver Canucks, goalie Ray Mikulan of Winnipeg Warriors is proving the deal that brought him home was a good one.

The little Winnipeg native performed in top fashion for Art Chapman two years ago and won the WHL's coast division rookie award.

This spring, following a year in which neither Mikulan nor his Canucks mates measured up, he found himself the Warriors' property.

Saturday Ray was unbeatable on 37 shots as the Warriors defeated Calgary Stampede 2-0 to remain in first place in the league's prairie division. Last year the Warriors finished at the bottom.

The Winnipeggers have a five-point lead over second-place Edmonton Flyers who downed third-place Saskatoon-St. Paul Regals 6-1 in Saskatoon.

On the coast a pair of weekend victories made things brighter for Victoria Cougars.

Victoria, in last place and 13 behind third-place Seattle in the coast standings, edged Vancouver 6-5 Saturday and whipped Seattle 4-2 Sunday on the Americans' home ice.

New Westminster increased its first-place margin to three points when by trouncing Seattle 6-1 Saturday, Seattle trails second-place Vancouver by one.

In Calgary Saturday, with Mikulan picking up his third shutout and a tie with Vancouver's Marcel Pelletier in this department, Art Stratton and Danny Summers scored the goals.

The Flyers got a hat trick from Dennis Olson in Saskatoon. Len Lundie, Pat Ginell and Hugh Colton scored the others while former Toronto Maple Leaf Vic Lynn tallied for the Regals.

Eddy Dorohoy scored two goals Sunday for Victoria. The centre also picked up two Saturday when the Cougars beat Canucks.

Newcomer Stan Bialuk and Gordie Haworth scored the others while Ray Kinasevich and captain Gordie Sinclair answered for Seattle.

Seattle went one up on Kinasevich's goal but Victoria rallied for two in a row for a lead they never relinquished.

Saturday before more than 3,000 in Victoria Dorohoy added three assists to his brace. Gordie Wilson scored twice while captain Collin Kilburn and Doug Macaulay added singles.

Cougars nearly blew a 6-2 lead when Bill Doherty, Ron Hutchison and Bob Robinson brought the count to 6-5. Doherty and Red Johansen had tallied for Canucks earlier.

Canucks pulled Pelletier from the goal in a last effort to tie the game but Cougars held on to win their second at home.

In New Westminster Saturday the Royals connected for three in each the second and third periods to beat Seattle. Former Winnipeg Warrior Hugh Barlow got two goals and two assists and Gary Edmondson two and one. Gordie Fashovny, perennial 30-goal-a-season man, and Arnie Schmutz scored one each while Guyle Fielder scored for the Americans.

Trimble's Tiger-Cats Too Tough for Bombers

TORONTO (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats, a rough, tough football team with guts and go, brought the Grey Cup back to Eastern Canada Saturday with a sound 32-7 defeat of Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The Tiger-Cats were as letter-perfect as a team can be with the glamorous Canadian championship at stake. Their errors were negligible.

The injury-riddled Bombers, bad enough off physically in facing the powerhouse Cats, left a trail of miscues from end zone to end zone.

Fumbles took a terrific toll. But even without the Winnipeg bobbles, it was Hamilton's day.

In the over-all assessment, Tiger-Cats were unbeatable on the field of Varsity Stadium, with 27,351 fans marvelling at Hamilton's rock-ribbed line and striking power in the backfield.

The Cats took command early with two touchdowns in the first quarter. The game Bombers, yielding every yard grudgingly and calling on the spirit that carried them to the western title, fought back savagely in the second and third quarters.

Tiger-Cats' offensive was stalled for those 30 minutes but they gave up nothing themselves.

The Cats unleashed their greatest offensive drive in the final quarter, rolling to three more touchdowns before the Bombers were able to get out of a whitewashing.

Cookie Gilchrist helped himself to two of Hamilton's five touchdowns. Bernie Faloney, Gerry McDougall and Ray Bawel—the man who pranced for the first touchdown on a Winnipeg fumble—had one each. Steve Oneschuk, the sure-footed hooper, was able to register only two converts.

High snaps washed out two and another was blocked.

Late in the fourth quarter Dennis Mendyk took Barry Roseborough's pass for Winnipeg's lone touchdown. It was converted by limping Kenny Ploen, corn-husker quarterback who had to give way to home-boy Roseborough in the third quarter. It was the only forward-pass touchdown of the game.

Two history-making incidents came out of this Grey Cup game. For the first time, a Canadian prime minister performed the official kickoff function. Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker booted the ball five yards into a swarm of eager photographers.

And for the first time in a cup game a fan became the 25th man in play. Bawel, streaking goal-ward down the sideline in the fourth quarter, was sent flying when deftly tripped by the spectator standing near the Winnipeg bench.

The Bombers could get only as far as the Hamilton 41-yard mark in the opening quarter. They moved on to the six with the start of the second quarter but were stalled there when they fumbled on third down and lost.

In the third quarter they penetrated to the Hamilton four, where James fumbled on a play that would have been good for a first down.

The most disastrous fumble was by Mendyk, when Bawel gathered in the ball and romped 48 yards for his touchdown. Bob Hobert's fumble, also in the first quarter, allowed the Cats to take over in Winnipeg territory.

TOP MAN ON THE TOTAL POLE

A total of more than $130,000,000 was spent for advertising last year by national product advertisers... and a third of it was spent in daily newspapers. $43,527,193 to be exact.

That's more money in newspapers than ever before... more than in any other medium... more than in TV, radio, outdoor and transit combined. And 1956 wasn't unusual.

Every year, newspapers are on top of the total pole. The reason is simple. For results, newspapers can't be topped. Use the daily newspaper as your basic advertising medium. Most advertisers do. The final for 1956:

Daily Newspapers $43,527,193
Television .. $21,445,000 | Outdoor $1,172,000
Radio 13,690,000 | Transit $644,000

P.S. Canadian retailers invest 82% of their advertising budgets in Newspapers... for results' sake.

Swordfish Dumps, Spears Fisherman

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) - A fisherman who was yanked overboard by a swordfish and then speared by it was being treated in hospital here today after a 500-mile mercy flight up the coast from lower California.

There was no immediate report on the condition of 47-year-old Miguel F. Pereira of San Diego, but the coast guard said he rested well on the flight.

The coast guard said the fish broke loose after pulling Pereira into the water, then speared him clear through and swam away.

The bill of the fish entered Pereira's body on the right side above the hip and came out on his left side.

Three Christmas trees, apparently left in the alley behind Hotel Prince Charles by the Kiwassa Club for disposal were salvaged Friday when a man was seen to drive up, load them into his car and proceed home with them.

"TEW" TO TIGHTEN RADAR SETUP

This is a sketch of the new "TEW" (tactical early warning) radar system developed for the U.S. Marines by Sperry Gyroscope. It promises to extend North America's tactical defence perimeter. The new long range, search-and-height-finding radar will detect either close-in or distant high-speed enemy aircraft and missiles. The radome can be heated or cooled, and rests on a self-contained "pallet." Thus it can be transported swiftly by air. It can be operated by one man. Signals picked up by the rotating antenna are passed through the radome console to a combat interceptor and control shed. There, range, azimuth and altitude are determined.

Sea Grave of Bligh's 'Bounty' Discovered

WASHINGTON (AP) - Finding of the grave of Captain Bligh's "Bounty", which was scuttled off Pitcairn Island in 1790, is reported by the National Geographic Society.

The discovery is described in the December issue of National Geographic by Luis Marden, veteran undersea photographer for the society.

Marden, who was living on the South Pacific island to collect material for a story and to make a color film about descendants of the Bounty mutineers, said he found the ship's remains about 30 feet down in Bounty Bay.

Helping Marden in his six-week search were two Pitcairners whom he trained in the use of an aqua-lung - Tom Christian, 21-year-old great-great-grandson of Fletcher Christian, and Tom's brother-in-law, Len Brown.

Along the line of the ship's keel, Marden reported finding hull fittings, an oarlock, and fragments of copper with which the Bounty, an armed transport, had been sheathed. Carbonized wood clung to the metal fastenings.

The spot was some distance from where the Bounty's rudder was found in 1933. The rudder now is in the Fiji museum on Suva.

Cold Comfort In Japanese Supreme Court

TOKYO (AP) - The wheels of justice literally froze to a halt Sunday in Japan's Supreme Court.

The courtroom is not heated until later this month and no one is permitted to wear an overcoat during the session.

A defence attorney was appealing when black-robed Associate Justice Katsushige Kotani interrupted him with a shiver.

"My three associates and I are catching cold," the justice said. "We desire a one-hour recess to secure blankets to wrap around our legs."

The prosecutor interjected, "as a matter of fact, we're freezing, too."

A recess was called, blankets were brought in for all involved in the proceedings and the bailiff gave spectators permission to don overcoats. Then court resumed.

Finger Biter Will Have to Serve 6 Months

VANCOUVER (CP) - A Revelstoke woman will have to serve six months for biting a neighbor's finger during an argument.

Mrs. Patricia Janet McMahon was convicted of assault causing bodily harm by Magistrate A. T. Needham at Revelstoke July 25.

The sentence has been upheld by Court of Appeal, which allowed the sentence to run from July.

The assaulted woman required stitches in her finger. Mrs. McMahon had a police record.

The bidding:
South West North East
1NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead—ace of diamonds. The strangest things happen in Never-Neverland. The bridge played borders on the fantastic, viewed from our lights, but I have no doubt they play the game with as much zest and relish as we do here on earth. It's hard to imagine bridge played where the addicts never heard of such conventions as Blackwood, Stayman, Gerber, or where such gadgets as point count, the informatory double, or cue bids, are unknown.

The bidding on this hand played at the Neverland Bridge Club is a case in point. One bid by South and that was the end. No time is wasted in Never-Neverland with extended bidding sequences, up to be.

South thought he had a chance to make three notrump so he up and bid it. No one contested South's bid and West started the play by cashing ten diamonds. There was no trouble discarding from dummy. East came down to three cards—A-10-9 of spades. But the last diamond, West cashed put South in a quandary. His last four cards were K-Q of spades, ace of hearts, and ace of clubs, and he had to make a discard.

He couldn't afford the luxury of a spade discard, since West would then lead a spade and East would take the last three tricks. South therefore had to release an ace. He chose the ace of hearts. West now cashed his eight of hearts.

Again South had to make a discard. This time he had to choose between discarding the ace of clubs or a spade. A spade discard would allow East to take the last two tricks. So South discarded the club ace. West then cashed the eight of clubs, led a spade to partner's ace, and South wound up without a trick. Down nine.

Of course, this was an extraordinary hand. Every one of South's 26 points went down the drain. But hands like this sometimes make me wonder whether the point count is all it's cracked up to be.

Sinatra Says "No" To Canned Fans

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Those guys in the grey flannel suits—I just don't dig 'em." This was Frank Sinatra's comment to reports that his TV show was "in trouble." There have been recurring items that his sponsors and the network are worried over the quality of Sinatra's Friday night shows and the ratings it has drawn.

Concern was expressed over the fact that Sinatra has done several shows in a few days. One story said ABC has asked the crooner to do more shows live instead of on film.

Sinatra remains calm through it all. "You'd think they'd give a show a chance to build," he said between scenes of Kings Go Forth. "But no. The show wasn't on two weeks before the complaints started coming in."

"Do more live shows? I said I'd do one Friday night. But that's all. If they want an audience reaction, I'll film the shows before an audience, the same as I Love Lucy does."

"But I'm not going to gimmick up the show. I loath those phony laugh tracks and canned applause. I'd rather quit than subside to them. My idea in planning the show was that it was a singing show. I don't think you need an audience for that."

He added that the speed with which he films in the shows has nothing to do with their quality. "That's the way I work—fast. That's the way I'll continue to work."

show, and I'm going to correct it. It has nothing to do with an audience or with speed. "It's the fact that I only have a piano on the stage with me. The technicians said they could not record the band on the same stage. That's bad for me. I need the spark that I get from singing with the full band. When the band was dubbed in on the sound track later, it just didn't sound right."

His deal with the nervous sponsors is for a year, and his multi-million-dollar contract with ABC extends three years. He indicated he's willing to co-operate with them—within reason.

TOKYO, (Reuters) — Japanese police, armed with a ship's steel wire cargo net, Sunday snared a 20-year-old youth who ran amok and killed two women with an axe in Mihama City, western Japan.

ALGERIA HIT BY WORST FLOOD IN YEARS

Torrential rainstorms of tropical intensity, described as the worst in Algerian history, have caused untold millions in damage. Vast areas are under water and transportation has been halted, with scores of villages completely isolated. This scene shows garrison troops paddling boats to rescue stranded villagers and farmers.

Britain Prepares for Hydrogen Bomb Attack

By WALTER DAVIS

LONDON — (Reuters) — Instructions to the man-in-the-street on what to do if a hydrogen bomb falls on Britain have been issued by the British government. The best defence against chaos and confusion, he has been told, is a resolute spirit of self-reliance, based not on groundless optimism, but on knowledge of the facts.

The official view is that while no defence against the H-bomb is possible, millions of lives can be saved by an efficient civil defence organization — if people know in advance what to do. A booklet written for the home office, which is responsible for civil defence, stresses that civilian morale would be decisive in any nuclear war.

AWESOME BLAST

Explosion of a 10-megaton bomb, 500 times more powerful than the atom bomb dropped on Nagasaki in 1945, would leave a crater one mile across and 200 feet deep. The pressure nearby would be 50 times the atmospheric pressure and the fireball could be up to three or four miles across.

The dangers are listed under three headings: heat, blast and radioactivity. Precautions advised against these are:

1. Heat: At 16 miles, exposed skin might be injured by the heat, and at four miles, the heat would be fatal to anyone standing in the open. The chances of escaping serious burns are increased by wearing hat and gloves and slacks or trousers. At Hiroshima, some Japanese women who had on white cotton dresses with a dark pattern received burns only beneath the pattern.

The skin under the white material escaped, because white or light-colored material reflects heat while dark material absorbs it.

WOOLS SAFER

Color apart, woolen clothes, the booklet says, would be less likely to catch fire than cotton. If clothing catches fire, the best way to put it out is to roll over and over on the ground.

Householders, knowing a bomb can start fires up to 20 miles from the explosion point, would do well to remove inflammable materials such as curtains from those parts of their house which have an open view of the sky. The lower storeys probably would be shielded by other buildings.

Windows should be white-washed. This would block some 80 percent of the rays and, as these rays travel at the speed of light, most of the heat would have passed before the white washed windows were broken by the slower-moving blast.

2. Blast: "Irreparable" damage is done up to five miles from the explosion and light damage for 25 miles. In Japan, few injuries were caused directly by blast, but many by falling masonry and fragments of glass. A slit trench, covered with earth, or a cellar or basement are advised for protection.

3. Radioactivity. The symptoms of radiation sickness are described. The victim does not feel anything for a few hours then vomiting and fevers, but little pain. Then come loss of appetite, loss of hair, and internal bleeding. People affected should, if possible, be kept warm and allowed complete physical and mental rest.

British Surveyors Leave Shackleton

LONDON (Reuters) — The crippled British survey ship Shackleton today moved slowly through icebergs-filled Antarctic seas toward land that was still more than 500 miles away.

Escorting her was the Royal Navy guard ship, H.M.S. Protector, which arrived Sunday night and took on board the 28 Antarctic scientists the Shackleton carried.

Radio reports received in London Sunday night said the Protector had reached the Shackleton and was taking aboard passengers from the crippled vessel. They said the Protector also had transferred salvage gear and a shipwright to the Shackleton to help with emergency repairs.

Underwater gas hoses in the Shackleton's side — made when she hit an iceberg Saturday — have been roughly patched.

The two ships were reported making about seven knots, heading for South Georgia, in the Falkland Islands.

The 1,200-ton Shackleton was at one time dangerously close to sinking. She jettisoned part of her cargo and swung life boats out.

Hurricane Hits Hawaii; Gales Buffet Canada

HONOLULU (AP) — Hurricane gales—the first recorded in the Hawaiian area of the Pacific—lashed the islands Sunday, disrupting the usual heavy air traffic and causing some damage.

No ships were reported in the path of the hurricane as it howled toward the major island of Oahu from the south at 100 miles an hour. But the storm halted all air traffic between Honolulu and the mainland and to mid-Pacific islands.

Gusts of 85 miles an hour delayed at least 15 commercial airliners here and in San Francisco. The hurricane, called Nina, is the 14th in the Pacific this year.

Halifax (CP) — Gale-force winds and rain struck many parts of Nova Scotia during the weekend and dealt a severe blow to the newly-opened lobster season.

Winds gusting to 54 miles an hour were reported to have destroyed hundreds of lobster traps off the south shore. The season officially opened Sunday, but traps were set Saturday.

Opportunity to Lose Your Head

KAWANG, Malaya (Reuters) — Children stayed away from school here today in fear of the head-hunting spirits of the Klang River.

Parents say the spirits are angry because no offering of a human head was made before a new bridge was built over the river. They refuse to let their children cross the bridge. The parents claim the river's spirits are now demanding 1,000 heads as appeasement for the slight.

Engineers from Canada May Train in U.K.

LONDON (CP) — A plan for training young Canadian engineers in Britain is being discussed by visiting Canadian industrialists and their British hosts.

The News Chronicle, which refers to Canada's "visiting trade mission as the 'billion-dollar boys,'" said one in 10 of the more than 50,000 young men who enter the Canadian engineering industry every year could well go to Britain as trainee technicians.

The paper quotes Harold Lush, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, as saying: "You could help us speed up training young Canadian technicians, just as British lads were taught flying in Canada during the war."

The idea is one of several expected to be discussed in the next two weeks in talks between British and Canadian leaders. The mission, halfway through its tour of British industry, is visiting plants in Edinburgh and Glasgow.

Penicillin was the first of the antibiotics and was discovered by Dr. Alexander Fleming at St. Mary's Hospital Medical School in London.

Officers Protest Registry Changes

HALIFAX (CP) — Officers and engineers of Canadian National Steamships' strikebound West Indies fleet Sunday night called "for the return of the vessels to Canadian registry and immediate resumption of service."

In a telegram sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Claude Jodan, president of the Canadian Labor Congress the officers asked them to meet today to "do everything in their power to effect a solution." They said they will support decisions agreed to by the CLC.

The wire was signed by officials of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild Inc., representing dock officers, and the National Association of Marine Engineers of Canada, representing engineers.

A union spokesman estimated about 75 per cent of the officers serving aboard the eight ship CNS fleet, anchored in Halifax Harbor, were present at a meeting in which they drafted a resolution forming the basis for the telegram.

The other officers, he said, were standing watches aboard the ships.

DENY ENDORSEMENT

The officers said they did not endorse a telegram sent last week to Donald Gordon, Canadian National Railways president, on their behalf. It said the officers were willing to serve aboard the vessels, now under Trinidad registry.

The telegram, the officers said, was drafted by the ships' captains and company representatives. On one diesel vessel, only
